Dear Ms. Jones:

On behalf of the Board of Directors of the Rainier Valley Community Development Fund (CDF), I want to tell you that you are one crazy ass bitch. It was a complete waste of time for you to come before the board though it did provide us with some comic relief. It sounds as if it was a frustrating process for the staff and I apologized to them for that.

As you are probably aware, we are a community-based board comprised of small business owners, such as yourself and local area residents. As such, we recognize a dog loan when we see it. We are very interested in how our programs are working to help Rainier Valley businesses who actually operate a business and not a hobby. The CDF strives to deliver a professional service to our customers which by the looks of your establishment, you wouldn't know anything about. Your comments will help us to improve upon our program operations where we will better screen out broke ass crazies.

On behalf of the board, I apologize for the trouble that this may have caused to you in perpetuating your delusion that somehow you might be credit worthy. The CDF remains committed to providing excellent customer service and your feedback has proved to be invaluable in helping the board see how much the staff has to put up with in doing its job.

Sincerely,

Joshua D. Williams
President of the Board
